2019 Solheim Cup Tournament at SaddleBrooke Ranch

All in pink to support their team. Everyone kicked off the first day with a great fight song to the tune of "You Are My Sunshine," written by Team Captain Carole Ericksen.

Seeing red, this team had a team cheer to get their adrenaline going.

The SaddleBrooke Ranch Women's Golf Association held their annual Solheim cup on Nov. 5 and 12. The two-day match play event was a rousing success.

The captains wanted to keep it fun this year, and they did a great job. Thank you to the captains, Susan Pharr and Gaye Ohanian for the red team and Carole Ericksen and Mindy Hawkins for the pink team.

The event started with a kickoff party at the home of Marlyce Mycka. During the evening, each person was given red or pink beads to show which team they were on. It was a really creative way to reveal the teams.

The comradery and team spirit with a rousing cheer by the red team and a song by the pink team. Ok, maybe we won't make America's Got Talent, but we did really well for the Ranch!

The captains did a fantastic job with the match-ups. Out of 450 total points, the pink team won by a total of three points.

Winners of the closest to the pin prizes were: hole 5, red – Sue Wells; hole 5, pink – Susan Ness; hole 14, red – Alison Livett; and hole 14, pink – Michelle Carter.

Thank you to our pros, Mike Jahaske and Ken Steinke, for their help with the scoring. And a special thanks to Dana Reddington of Long Realty who sponsored our event. ☺

With brisk mornings during two beautiful days of golf on Feb. 18 and 19, ladies of the SaddleBrooke Women's Golf Association (SBRWGA) competed in the first major golf tournament of 2020, the President's Cup. This tournament is a two-day low net tournament where the winner is commemorated on a perpetual plaque in the trophy case, and she receives a nice prize. As our community continues to grow, so does participation in the SBRWGA. With 50 women participating in this year's President's Cup, it was clearly the largest group ever to compete in this event.

At the end of the first day, Lee Rinke led all golfers with a low net 66 score. She was followed by Karen Jordan with a net 67, and both Jeanne Osterlund and Marci Whitehead had net scores of 68. Six other players also posted net scores under par.

Six ladies posted below net scores on day two, with only three women able to score under par net on both days. Ultimately, the winner of the two-day event was Marci Whitehead, with a two-day net score of 137. Five other ladies had two-day net scores under par, all within five strokes of Marci's winning score!

Overall President's Cup Winner was Marci Whitehead.
